

For Personal Reflection...

My Plans Succeed Because I Take Action

I am determined to see my dreams become reality. I am prosperous in every area of my life because of my unstoppable attitude. I attract triumph with my work ethic.

My dreams are big and ambitious because I allow myself to dream without limitations. I give myself time to develop thoughts into ideas and ideas into plans. My vision for my future fills my heart with excitement.

My ability to achieve rests solely on my honest desire to see my dreams realized. Dreams are more than fairy tales I imagine for myself; dreams are revelations of destiny.

When I have a dream, it is because my soul has received a calling to fulfill a purpose. The excitement I feel when I envision myself achieving great things stays with me as I figure out what steps I need to take to make my dream a reality.

I spring into action because action is what drives success. As I work hard, I see small glimpses of success, which energizes me to work even harder and achieve even more.

When I match the energy of my actions with the passion of my dreams, I am successful. I am enthusiastic every step of the way because I keep the image of my desire in the forefront of my thoughts.

Today, I choose to move beyond the process of dreaming by formulating a plan and implementing strategies for action. My dreams are important, but action is what can deliver those dreams to me.

Self-Reflection Questions:

1. What dream of mine do I want to make a reality?
2. What step can I take today to bring myself closer to my goals?
3. Is my passion for my dreams matched by my motivation to take action?
